Eat Out This Summer

Summer is a great time to eat out. Not out at a restaurant, but outside in the backyard. Now's the time to bring family and friends together to enjoy long summer days and the mouth-watering flavors of a meal cooked outdoors.

Show your participants how to transform their backyard into the place to be for a savory summer cookout. Highlight grills to help them hear those sizzling steaks and burgers. Remind them of the sweet smells and tantalizing flavors a smoker grill adds. Showcase handy utensil sets that every grill master needs. And make sure they think of you to order those delicious meats from Omaha Steaks® to make eating out unforgettable.

Finally, help them finish an evening out by roasting marshmallows and making s'mores over a new outdoor fire pit. Make sure your participants are eating out in style this year to keep them loyal and thinking of you for years to come.

The Takeaway: Outdoor grilling is a feast for the senses. Make sure your participants tie you to the cookout with awards that will have them savoring summer's flavors for years.
