

INDUSTRIES RANKED FROM LEAST TO MOST HAPPY

1. HEALTHCARE

Healthcare workers are the unhappiest, 47% of US healthcare workers are planning to leave their current positions by 2025.

2. EDUCATORS

Educators are feeling overworked, underpaid and underappreciated. 55% of educators are considering a career change or early retirement

3. HOSPITALITY

Employee happiness is improving as this industry recovers from the effects of the pandemic. However, 87% of hotels have staff shortages.

4. RESTAURANT

79% of restaurant operators are struggling to hire, leaving current employees overworked and overwhelmed.

5. NONPROFIT

Employee happiness is trending upwards in 2023. It has a 71% rate of increase this year and is expected to improve further.

6. FINANCE

The finance industry's openness to remote and hybrid work, as well as focus on company culture, promise to sustain high levels of satisfaction.

7. TECHNOLOGY

Employee happiness is plummeting. Although it had a strong finish in 2020, this year happiness is nose diving with a 145% rate of decline.

8. CONSTRUCTION

Currently the happiest industry to work in, due in part to rising wages and plentiful job opportunities, but experts predict labor shortfalls.
